

The Encyclical letter Laudato si': a platform to rethink education and social planning

- The Italian Catholic Action acknowledged the Encyclical letter as a priceless tool to rethink and to regenerate our ordinary social education and our local activities.
- The reference to “ecological conversion” and to integral ecology has been included within educational paths and tailored to every stage of life: children, adolescents, young people and adults (ACR summer 2017)
- An engagement to a deeper reflection has been taken during the last years, through the organisation of conferences and seminars by cultural institutes and journals of Catholic Action.
- Sustainability Report may be considered as another important result in this context. It is a process to evaluate social and environmental impact, which is undertaken at the national level, but with the perspective to be adapted at the local level by many dioceses.

Initiatives for Laudato si week

- Youth sector in the diocese of Treviso
- The Catholic Action in Naples, in cooperation with Social and Work Ministry and Policoro Project
- Reading and comment of the Encyclical (Adults of CA in Milan)

A poster for a webinar titled "Tutto è connesso". At the top, there are logos for "Ufficio diocesano per la formazione socio-politica Diocesi di Napoli", "Azione Cattolica Italiana Diocesi di Napoli", and "Progetto Policoro Arcidiocesi di Napoli". The main image shows hands holding a globe with a blue water drop icon. The text "Tutto è connesso" is written in a large, blue, cursive font. Below it, in smaller text: "PER UNA COMUNITÀ SOSTENIBILE E DI PROSSIMITÀ SULLE TRACCE DELLA LAUDATO SI". Then, "NE DISCUTIAMO CON:" followed by "Rita Bichi Sociologa", "Leonardo Becchetti Economista", and "Giovanna Gaudino Cooperatore Sociale". At the bottom, it says "SABATO 23 MAGGIO ORE 18.30-20.00". Below that, "WEBINAR" with logos for "cisco" and "Webex". At the very bottom, "Per info e iscrizioni" followed by "Scrivi una e-mail indicando nome, cognome e indirizzo email personale a: diocesi.napoli@progettopolicoro.it". A small logo at the bottom right says "SETTIMANA LAUDATO SI 2020".