CALL TO ACTION

ECOLOGICAL BALANCE

Understanding that:

- The Earth is not only a resources and services supplier.
- The Earth is our “common home”
- Our activities are generating such pressure to our ecosystems taking them out of their natural balance, and putting into risk all type of life.
- Everything is connected.
- The Earth should not be “squeezed like an orange” → extractivism

Which are the main social and environmental issues in my own community?

Are they near or far from me?

Do I really recognize the value of all and each species?

Challenged because:

- It is not possible to separate the environment matter from the justice with the poorest.
- The “discard culture” that is affecting also to the human race.
- “In the current conditions of the global society, where there are too much inequities and there are more people discarded, human right privated, the common good principle appears immediately as the logical and inescapable consequence to a call of solidarity and a preferential option for the poorest”.
- Inter and intra generational justice needed.

SOCIAL JUSTICE

Who are the “discarded” in my own community?
Do I really recognize that they are the most affected in environmental disasters?
Which development opportunities do I believe we can work with / for them?

Praying that we can be able to:

- CONTEMPLATE AND CARE: both attitudes show the way to correct and rebalance our relationship as human beings with creation.
- Contemplate to discover in others and in the nature something much greater than its usefulness.
- Contemplate to return to the Creator.
- Take care what we love and what we´ve discover through the contemplation.
- Offer loving, welcoming and respectful gestures to the others and the creation.

SPIRITUAL RESPONSABILITY

Do I really discover God in the creation?
Do I really feel the pain of what is happening to our common home? Or when a kind of species disappears ?

Committed to:

- Change our production modes:
 - Promoting jobs that dignifies the person.
 - The technology put into service of the common good.
 - Ensuring resources extraction rates under sustainable controls.
 - Shaping our energy matrix into renewable sourcing (against fosils one).
 - Promoting economy networks, (against fierce competition).
 - The subsidiarity as a key principle to integrate everybody in the supply chain (from the smallest to the bigger one).
 - Product desing more long lasting (agains planned obsolescence).
 - Circular economy as the perfect model to transform the wast into new raw materials and reducing the rates of extraction needed.
- Change our consumer modes:
 - Austerity as an importan value.
 - Buy and consume only what I really need.
 - Responsible consumer. Require information about how was produced.
 - Am I honestly ready to change my current lifestyle to a more auster one?
 - Am I an example to transform and spread in my community?
 - Am I offering my talents and knowledges to take care the common home?

ACTION

Go through the ECOLOGICAL CONVERSION is a PERSONAL DECISION that:

It begins from our heart

We provide our mind to really see and understand

We offer our hands put them into action

It is a gift that is requested, like faith.

It is a gift that must be cultivated day by day.

It is a continuous process.

It is a decision that starts from the individual, but it is shared and strengthened when we shared inside our community.
