Getting to work

Our first stop is the Catholic Institute in Floriana, where we will hear a presentation on the project from the lead researcher and the local coordination teams.

We are going to be joined by a number of guests, including a delegate from the local episcopate. After the 2-hour conference, there will be a reception (with food!).

In the afternoon, after some free time to explore the capital city of Malta, we'll have our first workshop in the St. Aloysius College, Birkirkara.

There we'll hear about the presentation of the results and the main themes from the focus groups, with time for discussion.

Next up is the Encounter Event in Ta' Qali. The Malta Catholic Youth Network (MCYN) organize an annual weekend of activities for Catholic youth, and we'll be joining thousands of other teens for Mass and lunch.

We'll continue our second workshop for the day in Birkirkara, where we'll be looking at the results on a national (per country) level, guided by the local experts from each country.

Looking Ahead

In the morning, we will be identifying areas of strength and weaknesses which we have been hearing about for the past two days, and then see how we can help each other on an international level to better achieve the vision of our communities.

Following that in the afternoon, we'll be discussing, now on a national level, how we can now better help out our youth volunteers.

With this final session, we'll be closing off the training weekend, leaving you with some free time!

“I encourage you to persevere generously in your service to the Church. Live to the full your charism which consists in taking on the apostolic aim of the Church in its entirety.”

- Pope Benedict XVI
